

Normec Product Testing

Your leading specialist in measuring VOC emissions for manufacturers of construction and other materials

Normec
Product Testing specialist in the Benelux

About Normec Product Testing

The Belgian laboratory Servaco was acquired by Normec Group in 2018 and, together with VITO, provides global compliance reports for all relevant product emission test requirements.

What make us unique?

-  Normec Product Testing provides complete services to manufacturers of construction and other materials.
-  A unique portfolio of global accreditations and certifications, enabling us to offer combined EU and US testing programmes.
-  We are the only UL-accredited third-party testing laboratory in Europe to test emissions with Greenguard certification.
-  Our experts offer an integrated approach to product emission testing, product content testing, product odour testing, exposure modelling, IAQ testing and LCA/EPD.
-  Each test programme and report is customized. Together with the customer, we determine the best and most cost-effective approach.

Our services

-  Full range of product emission tests, as well as indoor air analysis and assessment.
-  Performance tests for evaluating the reduction capacity of building materials and coatings for volatile organic compounds.
-  Supporting companies in their product development and obtaining the necessary labels and certificates.
-  A broad range of tests. View our full range at: productemissiontesting.vito.be.

What can you expect from us?

- ✓ Approved test laboratory for various analyses and labels including EMICODE, M1, Blue Angel, DICI, ECOproduct, GUT, Floorscore and Natureplus.
- ✓ Accredited services according to ISO/IEC 17025 accreditation including the recent EN 16516 (2017) and EN 16402 (2019).
- ✓ Accreditation for test chamber measurements and performing emission tests according to ISO 16000-3, -6, -9, -11, EN 16402, EN 16516, ASTM 5116-10, Belgian, German (AgBB/AGB), French, Polish and (pending) Swedish legislation.

With a Normec Product Testing report, you as a manufacturer of construction and other materials have access to the entire European and American market.